

Tara Roden - Class A Canadian PGA Teacher

Golf Philosophy: Train Smarter. Play Better.

The game of golf is rewarding and offers many challenges, personal development and confidence building opportunities. With a balanced and healthy approach to learning golf, you can have the game as a life long activity.

Enhancing your enjoyment in golf through effective learning process which best suits your personal goals, the desire to play and develop your game will keep golf an exciting lifetime adventure!

Learning is a fun process and what makes golf fun for you is the key to your success. If it is skill development and improvement or self confidence, social or competitive spirit which leads you to the development of your game, my goal is to assist you in the key areas of your game which will lead you towards a clear understanding of your game.

Tara is available for golf lessons at both Urban Links Golf Training Centre and Gallagher's Canyon Golf Academy. Her contact number is 250.470.0203 for details on schedule.
